Roll of the Missing

PHOTOGRAPH: RUE-PETILLON MILITARY CEMETERY, FLEURBAIX, PAS DE CALAIS, FRANCE. [Irregularly arranged because it was progressively enlarged through the consolidation of graves from across a wide area, this cemetery was begun in December 1914 and contains a total of 1520 burials, including 292 Australia, 24 New Zealand and 12 German casualties.] Exquisitely framed this image is from the private collection of Geoff Tully who contributed the entry on Percy Hagan.

BATTLE OF FROMELLES MISSING

Unlike Rue-Petillon Military Cemetery, VC Corner Australian Cemetery has no headstones and is specifically dedicated to the abortive attack at Fromelles. The memorial wall is said to record the names of 1,299 Australians who died in the battle and have no known grave and as well, its lawns contain 410 unidentified bodies of former AIF soldiers who fought in this sector.

Situated in No-Man's-Land between the German and Australian front lines, this cemetery symbolizes the sacrifice of the First AIF during World War One and embodies the spirit of ANZAC. Designed by Sir Herbert Baker, VC Corner Cemetery would be a sobering experience for any visitor interested in reflecting upon the bravery of the men who participated in this particular engagement, as discovered by Governor-General Ms Quentin Bryce, AC while laying a wreath at Fromelles. Importantly though even the losses here should be remembered in the context of Australia's overall commitment to the Allied cause during the Great War.

Reading the names below keep in mind that 5 of the soldiers commemorated on the VC Corner Memorial were supposed to have been found and identified after the Armistice and consequently no longer appear on the register of this cemetery. Information received courtesy of the CWGC though actually suggests only 4 members of the AIF were removed from the register concerned. These were 818 Pte William Coleman 59th Btn and 3407 Pte Samuel Philp 53rd Btn, both of which have been re-interred at Y Farm Military Cemetery, 452 Pte Alex Sittlington 60th Btn, reburied in the Arras Road Cemetery at Roelincourt, and 3491 Sgt John Tulloch 59th Btn, now located at Canadian Cemetery No. 2, Neuville-St Vaast. Major Roy Harrison of the 54th Battalion, who is buried in Rue-Petillon Military Cemetery, appears to be the fifth found and identified.

Villers-Bretonneux Memorial is Australia's national memorial. It was erected to honour all Australians who served in France and Belgium during the Great War.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION TO FACILITATE THE COMPILATION OF THIS ROLL HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM THE AUSTRALIAN WAR MEMORIAL AND THE COMMONWEALTH WAR GRAVES COMMISSION, WHICH, WHEN CROSS-REFERENCED, HAS ENABLED FROMELLES DISCUSSION GROUP TO HONOUR THE FALLEN.

This roll should be taken into account by the British and Australian authorities when considering the identification of the skeletal remains at Pheasant Wood, as common sense would suggest the list compiled by the German burial party after the Battle of Fromelles may not necessarily be complete. There is a distinct possibility that unidentified bodies, have been interred in the burial pits without being recorded and that is why the Federal Government should apply DNA and forensic technology to all remains connected with this particular clash. Especially so now reports are circulating the site manager who co-ordinated the trial dig has decided to support identification and one group is apparently employing its considerable resources to have visitors to the Western Front approached to ascertain whether they have any family connection.

Besides the 410 unidentified Great War Diggers already mentioned as being buried at VC Corner, the Imperial War Museum's Principal Historian Nigel Steel, recently reminded us of other unknown burials. In an article titled 'Another brick in the wall' published in WARTIME: OFFICIAL MAGAZINE OF THE AUSTRALIAN WAR MEMORIAL - ISSUE 44, Steel refers to other unidentified remains from this battle being buried in Rue-David Military Cemetery located in Fleurbaix (266), Ration Farm (142), Rue-Petillon Military Cemetery also situated near Fleurbaix (22) and Y Farm at Bois-Grenier (72).

Other cemeteries containing unidentified remains connected with this battle include Caberet-Rouge British Military Cemetery at Souchez and Le Trou Aid Post. In fact if one adds the burials at Pheasant Wood to the unknowns in these cemeteries one is not too far short of the total number given for the missing.

Every missing or unidentified soldier in this roll can be accessed through the Australian War Memorial's Roll of Honour database and can be found in the Australian Red Cross Wounded and Missing Enquiry Bureau Files, and as previously advised, the Commonwealth War Grave Commission's Debt of Honour Register as well.

For your convenience the web address for the AWM's Roll of Honour has been placed at the top and bottom of the list, together with the web address for the CWGC database.

Australian War Memorial's Roll of Honour database
Commonwealth War Grave Commission's Debt of Honour Register

The Great War Diggers above are all commemorated at VC Corner Cemetery Memorial, although it should be noted the following are still listed under the aliases adopted when joining the First AIF.

Robert Meadows (alias Allen Cassell) | James Le Briton (alias James Duncan) | Percy Hanchett (alias Percy Hatchett) | Edward Hawke (alias David Roach) | W John Howard (alias John Morley) | Colin Meyers (alias Cecil Morgan)

BASED ON A SPREADSHEET OBTAINED FROM THE CWGC SOME SERVICE NUMBERS IN THIS ROLL HAVE BEEN AMENDED TO BRING THEM IN LINE WITH THOSE RECORDED ON THE ROLL OF HONOUR DATABASE HOSTED BY THE AWM.

The CWGC also acknowledges the following service personnel as having an alias:

3066 Pte David Trainer 60th Btn (alias David Cook) | 3520 Pte Charles Fryklund 55th Btn (alias C Franklin) | 2667 Pte George Greenwood 53rd Btn (alias George Smith) | 4617 Pte Joseph Wailes 54th Btn (alias Joseph Wallis) | 2779 Pte Norman Lee 14th Company Australian Machine Gun Corps (alias Sydney Atwell) | 3250 Pte Benjamin Hopkins 60th Btn (alias Benjamin Botting)

These soldiers have aliases listed with the AWM which are not contained in the spreadsheet derived from the CWGC:

3866 Pte Charles Lock 60th Btn (alias Thomas Lock) | 2414 Pte Lionel Osmond 30th Btn (alias Robert Osmond)
